Childbirth Education Observation Requirements

A requirement for the Childbirth Education Prep Course is to audit a series of childbirth classes. You may choose any childbirth class series that is convenient for you. After selecting a series of classes, complete the observation form below. On a separate piece of paper, write down the order in which topics are covered in the series you observe. In addition, you should critique each class on teaching strategies, icebreakers and classroom interaction. You should bring this paper, your list of topics and critiques, as well as a copy of the course outline, if available, to the first day of the PCE Prep Course.

Please Note: If you are currently teaching childbirth classes, you do not need to observe another childbirth education series. However, the sections I and III on the observation form below need to be completed and brought with you to the first day of the PCE Prep course, as well as a copy of your course outline.
